

LLOYD-GEORGE CANCELS PEACE CONFERENCE AS SINN FEIN INSIST ON IRISH SOVEREIGNTY

Alleged Bunco Gambler Is Arrested

M'BRIDE TO "TELL
ALL," SOLICITOR'S
OFFICE IS TOLD

Officers in Washington
Holding Alleged "Mr.
Mac"—Consents to Return, Report.

ARREST EFFECTED
BY U. S. AGENTS

Man Left Atlanta Before He Was Indicted on Charge of Running Gambling House.

J. C. McBride, the alleged "Mr.
Mac" of bunco note, who is under indictment on charges of running a gambling house, at 57½ Central avenue, is again under arrest, according to information received by local federal inspectors and Solicitor-General John A. Boykin,
Thursday.

He was taken into custody yesterday by federal inspectors at 1426 M street, N. W., Washington, D. C., and, according to reports made to local federal inspectors and Solicitor-General John A. Boykin,
Thursday.

McBride first came into prominence in Atlanta last November, when the solicitor made a series of arrests on charges of running a gambling house, at 57½ Central
avenue, is again under arrest, according to information received by
local federal inspectors and Solicitor-General John A. Boykin,
Thursday.

He left Atlanta before he was indicted, but was later arrested in Baltimore, Md., the day after his marriage to an Atlanta woman who had met him in Washington, D. C., where the ceremony was performed.

Those who appeared before the grand jury, testified that "Mr. Mac" was the official banker at the Central avenue establishment, and in the event that he "talks" when he gets back to Atlanta, it was stated in the solicitor's office Thursday.

Solicitor Boykin was still out of the city Thursday and has not been informed of McBride's arrest. The assistant solicitor, E. A. Stephens, wired the Washington agents to hold McBride until an agent from Atlanta presents registration papers for his return to Georgia.

American Victims
Of Airship Wreck
Come Home Today

New York, September 15.—The British cruiser Dauntless, bearing the bodies of the Americans who lost their lives when the dirigible ZIT-2 collapsed August 24, will arrive here early tomorrow, according to wireless messages received tonight at the New York navy yard.

The Dauntless will be escorted into the harbor by a fleet of destroyers and aircraft and will dock at the navy yard. Later in the day a memorial service, in charge of Captain Vogelgesang, commander of the navy district, will be held.
Secretary of the Navy Denby will participate.

The bodies of Commander Louis H. Maxfield, of St. Paul; Lieutenant Commander Valentine N. Belg, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Chief Ma-chineist's Mate George Welch, of Illino., will be buried in the national cemetery at Arlington, Va., according to present plans. Instructions to bury the body of Lieutenant Commander Emory Cole, of Marietta, Ohio, at sea by his request, were given to the commander of the Dauntless before it sailed from Davenport.

Naval authorities decided later, however, to bring the body home for the memorial services before carrying out the officer's desire to be buried at sea. The burial will take place from the deck of an American battleship later. Relatives of the missing twelve dead have requested that burial take place in their respective home towns.

Former Emperor William Reported Gone From Doorn

Paris, September 15.—The Agence Radio has received a report from Mayenne that Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm has departed from Doorn, his retreat in Holland. No word is given as to what may be Wilhelm's destination.

NEW REVOLUTION AT MUNICH.

Berlin, September 15.—A new revolutionary enterprise has been undertaken near Munich, Chancellor Wirth admitted Thursday, saying that two men who were prominent in the revolutionary attempt of Dr. Wolfgang von Kapp, in Berlin, more than a year ago, are entrenched with a force near that city, threatening to fire if approached by republican forces.

The movement is said to have relations with the reactionary government of Bavaria and the indications point to a possible new "putsch" by the Kappists.

Men identified by the chancellor as being connected with the development near Munich are known to have travelled between Hungary and Munich several times lately, indicating, perhaps, an attempt to unite the reactionary elements of Hungary and Bavaria.

Merchants Stare As Overalled Boy Gives Big Orders

But Now They're Disaillusioned as Police Care for Puzzling Youth.

Four Atlanta business men at different times Thursday looked on a young man—23 years old, to be exact—who in soiled overalls and an appearance that suggested anything but wealth, and then they pricked up their ears and maybe their eyes "bugged" a little, too, as they heard this young man place orders for big consignments of goods.

Now these four business men are disillusioned—they still have not had the stock contracted for and police are caring for the young man watching him in an effort to determine what his peculiarities is that led him to make such big orders.

Leo R. Sigman on Thursday placed orders in four Atlanta business establishments for goods totalling $25,000 in value, and with the declaration that he would pay cash on Friday. He admitted to police that he placed the orders, but he has failed so far to explain why he did it, admitting also that he is totally unable to carry out the oral contracts.

No Charge Placed.
Sigman was taken to the police station late Thursday by Detectives Austin and Armstrong after complaint had been made to the police relative to the young man's activity by the Goldin Manufacturing company, harness makers, of 127 South Forsyth street, one of the firms involved in Sigman's dealings of Thursday. There is no charge against him.

Sigman's biggest contract, according to police, was made with the Mack International Motor Truck company through its Atlanta branch at 46 Ellis street Thursday. He selected tractors, trucks and parts for the machines which came to a total of $25,000, and said he would settle Friday.

The next biggest contract Sigman made was with P. S. Hall, horse and mule dealer, from whom he said he would buy live stock valued at $2,000.00. Here also he gave his word that he would make payment Friday.

Next in line comes the order he placed with the Haverty Furniture company, Auburn avenue and Pryor street, which amounted to $2,418.50.

And finally he placed his order for $375.50 worth of goods with the Goldin Manufacturing company, which brought to light his activities.

When taken to the police station, Sigman gave his address as 554 Spring street. John R. Miller occupies the house at that address and when questioned regarding Sigman, said that Sigman came to him some weeks ago and told him he had $25,000 he wanted to put in a house. Sigman never lived at the house, according to his own statement and that of Miller. Sigman, when questioned, said he had somehow obtained the address of Miller, and it sprang into his mind when he was taken to the station.
He said he couldn't explain beyond that why he had given it.

Several days ago, Sigman said, while at the police station Thursday night, he rode all day in a taxi-cab piled up a bill of $40 and then was unable to pay it and spent the night at the police station. He said he forgot to leave the taxicab.

Police are puzzled.

Deputy Sheriff Killed.
Knoxville, Tenn., September 15.— T. C. Partin, a recently appointed deputy sheriff, was fired upon from ambush near Pineville, Ky., Monday evening about 6 o'clock and instantly killed. It became known here today.

Claiming that he can locate and wreck on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad September 6, a man from Nashville, Ga., whose name was not disclosed, came to Atlanta Thursday and held a conference with Colonel B. L. Bugg, receiver of the line. The man wrote Governor Thomas W. Hardin his possession which he believed would lead to the arrest of persons connected with the wreck. The governor referred him to Colonel Bugg. The Nashville man came to Atlanta Thursday and talked the matter over with Colonel Bugg, but nothing was given out concerning the nature of the clues he said he possessed.

Following the conference with the Nashville man, Colonel Bugg said it was not best to give out the man's name as he was working on the case and any premature announcement might spoil his plans.
Nashville is not on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic line but is located a short distance south of Fitzgerald, which is headquarters of the striking employees of the road.

Fitzgerald, Ga., September 15.— The jury in the case of O. C. Fairfield, one of 26 persons indicted in connection with alleged "interference of the employees of the A. B. & A. railway" was put to bed at 11 o'clock tonight.

Fifteen minutes later Fairfield, who was under a $500 bond, was placed under arrest on a warrant charging murder issued on affidavits signed by Mrs. W. T. Reed, widow of an engineer of the road shot while in his engine. This made the sixth arrest in connection with the death of Engineer Reed.

Judge O. T. Gower charged the jury at 9 o'clock tonight.

The grand jury which is investigating the death of Engineer W. T.
Reed, who was shot in his locomot-

To Decide Charge For Prosecution Of Arbuckle Today

DEMOCRATIC DRYS
MOVING TO SEIZE
CONTROL OF PARTY

Plan to Achieve Absolutely Dry Leadership of National Committee and Run Bone-Dry Candidates.

COMMITTEE MEETING ASKED OF CHAIRMAN

Stated That Party Leaders Desire More Militant Policy—Would Reorganize National Committee.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER,
United States Staff Correspondent.
Washington, September 15.—A movement has begun within the democratic national organization to make it "bone-dry" both in anticipation of the 1922 congressional elections and the presidential election two years later.

The purpose of this movement, which may be said to be sponsored largely by that group which advocated the nomination of William Gibbs McAdoo at San Francisco, is to effect an absolutely dry leadership of the national committee, to support dry candidates at the congressional elections and seek a bone-dry outstanding figure for its next presidential nominee.

Within the last three weeks the members of this group have bluntly informed Chairman George White, of the national committee, that he should and must call a meeting of the committee without more delay, that there may be a reorganization and formation of a militant policy.

Want Aggressiveness.
The reason given for demands such action is that "democratic leaders generally are not kindly disposed to the 'pacifistic' attitude of the national organization at a time when they feel, democratic campaign thunders is laying about in a measureless quantity. They declare that if it hadn't been for their action, begun several weeks ago, the democratic organization would have let the New Mexican senatorial election next week go by default-ively now manifested by the organization in New Mexico may effect a victory in that state for the democratic candidates.

Back of this agitation for more militancy, however, is the aim to make the party fundamentally progressive and absolutely, unqualified-ly dry.

Disclaimer is made that this purpose necessarily enters into the renewed movement against the liquor traffic. Nevertheless, it is no secret that the lukewarm attitude shown toward Governor Cox's campaign last fall by such prominent democrats as Bernard Baruch and Thomas Chabbourne was due to their belief that the Cox campaign was being run by men not essentially "dry."

Glass and Wilson Confer.
George White, while a dry himself, was and still is advised in many important matters by E. N.
Moore, who never has been an enthusiastic prohibitionist. The first thing in the minds of the democrats, therefore, among whose leaders are Senator Glass, of Virginia, and Jones, of New Mexico—is to effect a reorganization of the national committee. Whether formally or informally is involved in any way in the movement has not been disclosed. It is known, however, that Glass in recent weeks has had two prolonged conferences with Wilson, understood to have been devoted to a thorough discussion of the party outlook and the policies it should pursue.

It has been announced at democratic headquarters that there will be a meeting of the national committee "about the middle of October." Meetings of the committee, however, have been announced before—and postponed. It is said that Chairman White, while confident of his re-election as chairman if he wishes to retain the post, is

Brady and police officials continued on Page 5, Column 6.

COUNTER-CHARGES HURLED AT BROWN BY LABOR'S CHIEF

Gompers Declares Former Governor Is Equally Culpable If He Has Proof for Accusations.

ADDRESSES MADE AT ANSLEY DINNER

Key and Judge Sibley
Are Among Speakers.
Jurist Lauds Labor
Head's Good Judgment.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, Thursday night in renewing his attack on charges of former Governor Joseph M. Brown, declared that if he, himself, were guilty, as Mr.
Brown charged, of being accessory before and after the fact of murder in alleged strike deaths, that Mr.
Brown is also guilty because of the latter's failure to bring about indictment of the labor chief.

Mr. Gompers' charges against Mr.
Brown were made at a dinner given at the Ansley hotel and followed publication by Mr. Brown of accusations that Mr. Gompers and William D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, are accessories before and after the fact of murder in deaths alleged to have been the result of industrial strikes.

At the dinner Mayor James L.
Key deplored the charges made by Mr. Brown. President Herbert
May, of the state senate, representing Governor Thomas W. Hardwick, defended Mr. Gompers under Mr.
Brown's charges. Other speakers at the dinner were Federal Judge S. H. Sibley, President J. G. Valentine, of the Georgia Federation of Trades; President Lee Ashcraft, of the chamber of commerce; Preston Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway and Power company, and Jerome Jones, editor of The Journal of Labor, of Atlanta.

Appeal to Attorneys.
"I ask that attorney-general of the state of Georgia," declared Mr.
Gompers in his attack on Mr. Brown, "or any lawyer or judge present, if former Governor Joseph Brown is not himself an accessory before and after the fact of murder when he publicly declares that I am, and states that he is possessor of the proof that I am, and then fails to present his facts to a grand jury, have me indicted and tried?"

"I say that it is the former governor's bounden duty to present his facts to a grand jury," continued Mr. Gompers, "and if he doesn't do it, I call him a mischievous slanderer, unworthy of the respect of his fellow citizens."

Mayor Key, speaking of Mr.
Brown's charges, declared that "it is the duty of the attorney-general to see that the law is enforced."

Ruling By Martin May Decide Winner Of Baseball Race

If Protest From Atlanta Is Upheld, New Orleans Has Chance for Rag.

Memphis, Tenn., September 15.—A ruling by John D. Martin, league president, on a protest filed by the Atlanta club was awaited tonight to establish whether Memphis has a clear title to the 1921 Southern association pennant or the outcome of games to be played tomorrow and Saturday between New Orleans, runner-up in the pennant race, and Mobile may decide the issue.

President Spiller, of the Atlanta club, in a formal protest to President Martin, contended that the alleged division by Memphis and Nashville players of gate receipts of what was termed an exhibition performance here last Friday violated the league constitution.

If the Atlanta protest is upheld and Memphis penalized by the forfeiture of games scheduled to be played since Friday, the Chickasaw's standing would be reduced from its present figure of 103 games won and 47 lost to 95 won and 57 lost with a percentage of
.627, at the end of the season.

Game Was Force.
New Orleans now has a count of 35 won and 55 lost. Victory in both of its remaining games would give the Pelicans a percentage of .534.

RUPTURE FOLLOWS REFUSAL BY IRISH TO DISCUSS ISSUE

British Premier Tells De Valera He Must Consult With Cabinet—May Call Parliament.

CRITICAL SITUATION
RESULTS FROM BREAK

With Onus for Clash
Upon Sinn Fein, British
Are Ready for Renewed Warfare.

BY PERCY SARR,
United States Staff Correspondent.

London, September 15.—Lloyd-George has cancelled the proposed Irish peace conference at Inverness.
The premier, following publication of Eamonn de Valera's "acceptance" of the invitation, telegraphed the Irish president that he found it necessary to call off the arrangements for the meeting in Scotland.
De Valera's insistence upon recognition of the independence of Ireland as a prerequisite to the conference, after the premier's repeated declarations that the conference must discuss this phase as well as all others, brought about the rupture.

The premier's action, which from the standpoint of diplomatic jockeying, throws the onus for the break upon Sinn Fein, creates the most critical situation in which the Irish question has found itself since declared that the premier issued his first invitation to the Irish leaders to come to London and discuss his proposals for peace.

Quick Answer.
His dispatch to De Valera came with lightning-like rapidity, after a delay of forty-eight hours, during which couriers from Dublin had visited him at Gairloch and discussed with him the principle upon which the negotiations now appear to have foundered. It does not end all attempts at bringing about Irish peace, but it does mean for all time any supposition that the British government will grant any further concessions to Sinn Fein.

In his message to De Valera, the premier informed the Irish president that "it would be necessary to suit the time and place for the settlement of the Irish question, and what action is necessitated by the new situation."

"In the meantime," he said, "I must make it absolutely clear that the government cannot reconsider its position."

Lloyd George in his telegram to De Valera reveals that he had informed the Sinn Fein couriers who carried De Valera's reply to him, that reiteration of the reservation that the Irish leaders negotiate as "representatives of an independent and sovereign state" would make the conference impossible.

Warns of Effect.
"I pointed out to the couriers," he says, "that your letter specifically reaffirmed that claim, stating that your constitution was formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state," and that it is only as representatives of that state that its delegates have any authority or power to act in behalf of the Irish people.
"I asked them to warn you of this position."

the serious effect of such a paragraph. Lloyd-George added that he was willing to regard the letter as still undelivered, in order to afford De Valera opportunity to reconsider his position.

May Call Parliament
It is predicted that Lloyd-George will call parliament into session to consider the situation.

The rock upon which the negotiations apparently have failed is the status of Sinn Fein's delegation to the peace conference.

Lloyd-George insists that they shall come as representatives of a dominion loyal to the crown and an integral part of the British empire.

De Valera insists that they shall go as representatives of an independent and sovereign state—to discuss the question of allegiance after they arrive.

Neither Will Recede.
Neither De Valera nor Lloyd-George will recede from this position.

If the negotiations are thus ended, the government is expected to put into force at once the present home rule act dissolving and suppressing the De Valera government.

The government has prepared a most elaborate military program in the event the situation necessitates the use of force. A new campaign described as a revelation of military strength such as Ireland has never known before, is "outlining."

De Valera's note follows: "We are unhesitating in declaring our willingness to enter a conference to ascertain how the association of Ireland with the association of nations, commonly known as the British empire, can be reconciled with Irish national aspirations."

"Our readiness to contemplate such an association was indicated in our letter of August 10. We have accordingly summoned the Dail Eireann that we may submit to it for ratification the names of the representatives it is our intention to propose. We hope that these representatives will find it possible to be at Inverness on the date you suggest, September 20."

"In this final note we deem it our duty to reaffirm our position and can only be as we have defined it throughout this correspondence. Our nation has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state. It is only as representatives of that state and as its chosen guardians that we have authority or powers to act on behalf of our people."

"As regards the principle of government by consent of the governed, in the very nature of things, it must be the basis of any agreement that will achieve the purpose we have at heart—the final reconciliation of our two warring youths."

English Press
AMAZED.
London, September 16.—(Friday.) The English press this morning expresses frank amazement over the practical rupture in the Irish negotiations.

The newspapers, however, are almost a unit in supporting Premier Lloyd-George in his attitude.

The Chronicle says the onus for the developments rests on the Sinn Fein, while The Daily Telegraph argues that the moment is urgent for taking of a plebiscite in Ireland on what England offers the way of dominion rule.

Times expresses earnest hopes that wiser counsel prevail.

ferred to determine which one of the two murder and the two manslaughter charges against Arbuckle they will try.

Ball Check Deposited.
A certified check covering Arbuckle's cash bail was deposited with the bond and warrant clerk, but it was announced that he could not be admitted to bail until the murder charges had been disposed of.

Tomorrow Arbuckle is scheduled to appear before Police Judge Lazarus for a further hearing on the murder charge preferred by Mrs. Bambina Maude Delmont, one of those present at Arbuckle's party.

Officials of Judge Lazarus's court believe it will be two or three weeks before Arbuckle is brought to trial.

Brady declared that Arbuckle would be given as speedy a trial as possible, and that the trial would begin as soon as it could be arranged.

The court procedure tomorrow calls for informing Arbuckle of his legal rights and the taking of such testimony as the police judge wishes to hear in making his decision whether to bind the defendant over to the superior court for trial.

Verdicts of Party.
Depositions of Lowell Sherman and Frederick Fishback, of Los Angeles, giving their versions of the party in Arbuckle's rooms were received today by Brady, but he declined to give out their contents, saying he had not had opportunity to read them.

When Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs.

Dean visited Brady today they were told that their presence at the various hearings would be welcomed, but that they probably would be challenged by the defense if they were called as jurors.

V. Myrick, former employee, are others in custody of the sheriff. Judge O. T. Gower held that the without former employees of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad was not an issue in the trial.

The objection of Solicitor General Wall to the effect of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad while the lawyers argued this point.

Fairfield, in a statement to the jury, said "we are organized to protect ourselves to get a good living and to be able to send our children to school and live decently."

He denied that he had ever intimidated any present employee of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad and denied that he had attempted to destroy company property.

"I have tried to have the men up on the law. I am innocent," he concluded.

In rebuttal, the state put on a number of witnesses who charged that former employees had threatened present employees of the road.

is indeed unfortunate that when a great man comes in our midst that he be met by a gratuitous fling and insult, and I for one, and in behalf of Atlanta, resent it."

Valentino Speaks.
"By publishing that article, ex-Governor Brown," said Mr. Valentino in a heated attack, "could not get much lower. He turned a moral and political somersault. When he was canvassing for political office he was glad to lick the boots of the laboring people, and now he turns around and for no cause whatever, calumniate labor's chief. In the name of the people of the state of Georgia, I resent it."

Following his attack on former Governor Brown, Mr. Gompers turned his attention to the industrial situation.

"The American Federation of Labor speaks for the articulate, for those who are unwilling to speak or who are powerless," declared Mr. Gompers. "We are working for the health and happiness; for America, the hypothesis of ideal fraternalism, the hypothesis of idealism is working for it. I am optimistic, and I know we will succeed."

Urges Faithfulness.
"And now, my brothers in the labor movement, grip your teeth, hold on and fight! Be faithful to organized labor, and go to the union and organize and organize them. Inculcate in yourselves and in your associates a whole-hearted loyalty to America, and cement the solidarity of the American labor movement."

President Clay, of the state senate, said that Governor Hardwick is and always has been a friend of unionism and welcomed Mr. Gompers to the state of Georgia while Mayor Key welcomed him to the city.

Mayor Key in his address said: "I regard the labor movement as one of the strongest factors for bringing peace and order and peace depends on the progress of the world. The labor movement also recognizes equality and democracy, and it is a great honor for the city of Atlanta to have the chief of that movement as its guest."

He added that "Atlanta is destined to be a great city, because there is harmony between employers and employees in all local industries."

FROM leading cities come reports of the popularity of Knickerbocker sport suits and in Chicago an authority forecasts their vogue for business wear—and why not? They are not alone sensible but extremely practical and smart. Women are fast winning their way to leadership in golf, and tennis. It is but right and sensible that they dress so as to play at their best. Atlanta, that boasts of so many capable women golfers, should be prompt in adopting this practical innovation in sports attire.

cussed at the probe. He said he did not know whether or not the rail would be sent to Washington.

Scientific Tests to Be Made

Scientific tests of the broken rail probably will be made by Inspector Patterson and the information obtained will be used also by the special commission appointed by the governor. An expert from the interstate commerce commission is expected to arrive Friday to aid in the investigation. It was learned also that the railroad will make certain tests of the wheel and axle in its shops at Fitzgerald.

Representatives of the railroad and representatives of the machinists' union continued to stand by their respective theories as to the cause of the wreck. The railroad men declared every new link in the chain of evidence shows more conclusively that the train was wrecked by an explosion. The machinists and union men expressed more confidence than ever that the evidence showed the wreck was caused by a "loose" wheel. Both are awaiting the decision of the special commission with confidence that this decision will support their respective theories.

It was learned Thursday that certain threats had been made to Engineer Morris some time prior to the night of the wreck. It was said that he was warned not to continue in the service of the railroad but details of these alleged threats were not made public. The special commission refused to admit any evidence in connection with the threats during its hearing which ended Wednesday afternoon.

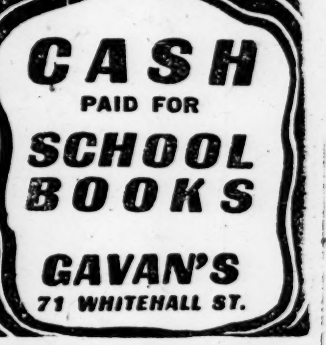

This is the time when you must positively use care in selecting foods - when you must use care in selecting articles of food. To be sure that you get the real food values that help build up good health.

You have got to have the vital elements in foods if you want to keep well. These vital elements cause the food you eat to assimilate - it means health and growth in children - also in grown-ups. It means replacement of worn out tissue, the building of lost bodily vigor. In fact, it is absolutely necessary to life itself.

Food authorities agree that pure baking powder and good plain flour are much better for food value and health than the self rising flours.

So for the best of health - for the most economical results - use only plain flour and good baking powder.

YOU, AS A GOOD HOUSEWIFE know that the time to add anything to flour is just before you begin your baking, not months before and you also know that no prepared mixtures such as the self rising flour can be as fresh - can be as certain in results - as the good old fashioned straight flour and pure baking powder.

CONFIDENCE COUNTS.

"It is all due to the difference between 10-cent cotton and 20-cent cotton," said Congressman William C. Wright, of the fourth district of Georgia, in a statement in The Constitution, in which he tells of the sudden jump from despondency to hope in his part of the state, saying that "while the actual results in the import of dollars and cents from the crop that is being marketed is not large as yet, the psychology of the situation, due to the advance in cotton, is marvelous."

After all, psychology, or the attitude of the public mind, is a most important factor in business. If the spirit of the people is depressed and pessimistic, regardless of the cause, business is as certain to be dull and stagnant.

Conversely, if it is cheerful, buoyant, hopeful and optimistic, business is bound to respond and prosperity will result, even without a great movement in actual money.

Georgia, the south and the country is today undergoing the process of transition from the former status of public sentiment and business to the latter.

As Congressman Wright further expressed it—

"There has been a complete revolution of sentiment in my district in the past few days. Gloom has taken a back seat. The people are hopeful, cheerful and full of optimism. Business in every line is good. The cotton mills are running at full tilt, and the farmers are getting happy again."

"We believe the worst is over, and if so there is indeed cause for rejoicing."

That this encouraging situation is fast becoming nation-wide, and that "the worst is over" everywhere is indicated in the statement of Governor Wellborn, of the Sixth District Federal Reserve bank, regarding conditions as he found them upon a visit to the money centers of the east, from which he has just returned.

"Business of all kinds throughout the south and east," says Governor Wellborn—

"is already feeling the effect of the increased price of cotton. While in New York I found a much more optimistic attitude among bankers and business men. Not only is the psychological effect of the higher price important, but there will soon be actual benefit in that the buying power of the south has been greatly increased by the increased value of its most important product. Even if this will make itself felt in nearly all lines of business."

It is unreasonable to expect a great "unloading" of cotton so long as the price trend is upward; consequently the actual imporing of money from cotton sales will be expected to be deferred until it becomes apparent that the peak of the market has been reached.

But in the meantime, "psychology" is at work; confidence is being restored, and prosperity is fast returning in anticipation of the liquidating process that is a certainty of the near future.

A TIMELY WARNING.

The Georgia newspapers, daily and weekly, while felicitating the farmers on the timely advance in the price of cotton, do not overlook the danger there may be in it to future farming operations.

So the warning word is spoken—that the farmer should be on his guard.

This is the way the Albany (Ga.) Herald expresses it—

"Mr. Farmer, think a long time before you consider any plan next year that will lead you away from crop diversification. Just bear in mind that the price of cotton is rising these days because the acreage in food crops was enormously increased. An all-cotton system kept the south poor for a generation, and just one year of the old system how would put skins under all our hopes, and bring our noses to the grindstone. A normal cotton crop next year probably will be needed, but a bumper crop would well, it would make us 'bump the bumps' all right!"

The one-crop system has been put to the discard by what has already been accomplished on the diversified crop plan.

But it is well to be on the watch in the next crop-planting season, and keep up the general home supply campaign.

REASON AND THE LAW.

Several years ago the federal supreme court announced the doctrine that the "rule of reason" should apply in construing the law.

That was a new interpretation in law construction but it was none the less sound.

Judging from the day-by-day press reports it seems that the new restrictive immigration law is being administered in absolute disregard of this rule, and instances of inhuman heartlessness and of almost unbelievable cruelty are the result.

For example the press reports carry a story about a "little Armenian woman sixty years old," who had come to America to be cared for by her naturalized ex-soldier son, but who was ordered home "through the back door for the reason that the Armenian quota for the month of her arrival had been completed."

The woman was literally torn from her son's arms, and despite the fact that she "cried her heart away to the officials," her plea that she be permitted to stay, was denied. The young man, says the dispatch, "begged for time to take the case to Washington, but he, too, was rebuffed."

This former service man has a good position, is able to support his mother, and sent for her to come and "spend her last years" with him. Had she arrived in August she could have stayed, "because during that month Secretary Davis had made an exception in the case of mothers who had come to sons serving in the army; but," continues the report, "Harry's mother came three minutes too late, arriving at three minutes past midnight, August 31."

A few days ago a Polish young woman who had been in this country eight years, working hard and saving her money against the day when she could send for the rest of her family, went to New York to meet the ship that carried her sister—the only member of her family who had survived the war and the war's tragic aftermath.

The girl was refused admittance to the United States because Poland's quota of immigrants for September had been filled just as she was about to pass through the gate at Ellis Island!

The new arrival declared in her disappointment that she would kill herself before she would be taken back to the misery she had left in her native land. To avert a tragedy the equally distressed sister of the desperate girl sought to gain admittance for the immigrant through a ruse. But her plan was detected, and now she is facing criminal trial for aiding an alien unlawfully to enter the country; and the immigration authorities say that unless the strange girl, who has disappeared, is found, the former will have to go back to Poland in her stead!

Another case of similar nature reported within the last few days relates to a large family of foreign-born who was divided at the gate at Ellis Island. The mother and several children passed through, but the father—the family bread-winner—and one child were stopped and ordered shipped back to Europe because the month's quota of immigrants from their country was reached before they had gained admittance!

These are only three of dozens of equally pathetic instances that have been reported in the news "patches."

Restrictive immigration laws may be justifiable, and capable of working out to a desirable end if enforced according to the "rule of reason."

But an enforcement policy the operation of which separates families and snatches innocent babes from the arms of innocent mothers and fathers, has no place under the American flag!

It is natural for cotton to come down occasionally, if only to see how the country is standing the prosperity.

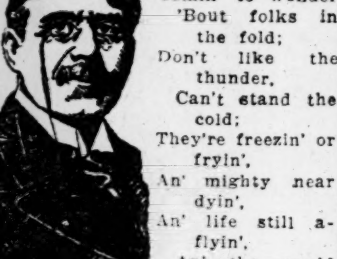

It is high time for the sons of rest to make believe they're working. The harvest dinner bell is ringing.

They may call it "The limitation conference," but there should be no limit to the work to make it all the country expects of it.

It isn't rest-time when business is brightening. That's the very time for "the halleluia lick!"

How Seas Were Named.
(From The Wellspring.)
There are several large seas which were named for their colors. The White Sea bears its name with perhaps the best reason of any. Its shores are covered with snow the greater part of the year, and the frozen surface is for that time a snowy plain.

The Red Sea is also entitled to its name. Through its clear waters the reefs of red coral are clearly to be seen. Much of its rocky bed is the growth of the coral insect. And one reason, and probably the true one, for the name of this sea is the fact that along its shores lies the ancient Edom. The name signifies red.

In the case of the Yellow Sea its name is sufficiently accounted for from the appearance of its water. The sea receives a great deal of mud from the rivers of China; moreover, it is shallow, and the sandy bottom gives it a yellow color way out from the shore.

A Black Sea affords no clear account of its name. The waters are not black, but blue. The Greeks, when they first became acquainted with this sea, called it by a name which signifies the Inosipatible. Later they changed it to the Hiospatible. It has naturally been inferred by this change of name that upon further acquaintance the Greeks found the waters friendly. But the Greeks were inclined to give soft and flattering names to the objects of their dread, and that may be what they did in this particular case.

The Greek name holds to this day among the older nations of Europe. The Russians called the sea Black. It seems likely that this name was suggested by contrast. The sea south of Russia, as the White Sea lies to the north. Had the latter been called the North Sea, then the sea to the south of it, the Greeks might have been named by the Russians the South Sea. In the same way the Black sea was named in contrast to the White Sea.

Athens, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—The improvements on the Banner-Herald newspaper offices in Athens have been completed and the building has the appearance of one of the most beautiful buildings in the city.

The addition of a second story for the news and editorial departments and additions to the composing room constitute the changes. Work on the building has been under way for the past six weeks.

The Georgia Ad Valorem Rate Lower Than in Other States Except Carolina and Virginia

Ad valorem—a tax on property—is the basis of every southern state's system of raising revenues except North Carolina. In this state the property tax has been imposed from the beginning of the commonwealth. Georgia—the exclusive state property taxes, therefore, are practically double those imposed in Florida.

The state's income is estimated in 1921 at $9,000,000.

Louisiana imposes a total of 54 mills for all state purposes, also segregated, and is supposed to assess property at full value, by statute, but does not do so. Actual percentage being around 60 per cent of "fair cash value." Her ad valorem rate is, therefore, at least 25 per cent greater than Georgia's.

Louisiana raises nearly three times the revenue that is raised in Georgia, but has the advantage of a segregation tax that Georgia cannot impose, and also raises more from her inheritance and corporate franchise taxes.

Mississippi's ad valorem rate is 9 mills, and her basis of assessment has been, within the last year, statutorily placed at 40 per cent. She is, however, on practically an actual 40 per cent working up to the new law by equalization, and without radical changes in the state's revenue, it is proposed she drop her rate accordingly. Mississippi's state property tax, therefore, is at least 25 per cent greater than Georgia's assessed value.

Tennessee imposes a 2.60 mill rate on actual cash value. This is segregated as in most of the other states, the dividing the gross rate into specific funds for specific purposes. The rate is, however, less subject to political maneuvering in the legislature.

Tennessee's state tax rate, therefore, is slightly heavier than Georgia's, figuring the assessed valuations.

In passing let me say that Tennessee has a sliding scale of tax on actual cash value. The average rate is actually 20 per cent, and the Palmetto state, therefore, imposes a state property tax, which is 20 per cent of the assessed value, or, practically double that of Georgia.

South Carolina has a state rate that totals 12 mills on a statutory 40 per cent value. The average rate is actually 20 per cent, and the Palmetto state, therefore, imposes a state property tax, which is 20 per cent of the assessed value, or, practically double that of Georgia.

Alabama's state rate, totals 6 1/2 mills on a statutory 40 per cent value. The average rate is actually 20 per cent, and the Palmetto state, therefore, imposes a state property tax, which is 20 per cent of the assessed value, or, practically double that of Georgia.

North Carolina, under a rigid revaluation act, carrying the property to the tax books at full value, in 1919 levied a rate of 14 1/2 mills to 4 1/2 mills, and through the bringing of intangibles to the books reduced the rate to 14 1/2 mills. The rate is, therefore, 14 1/2 mills, or, practically double that of Georgia.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

PORES HEREBY ABOLISHED.
The pores of the skin are like auto-intoxication—a fine hypothetical foundation upon which to set up and launch a lot of plausible remedies—plausible to credulous folk.

The skin has a great many minute openings in it, to be sure, from which protrude the shafts of the fine hairs that cover the skin and through which empty the sebaceous or oil glands, whose secretion serves to keep the skin soft, pliable, pink, young and warm; and the sudoriferous or sweat glands, whose secretion serves to regulate the temperature of the body, but practically not at all to carry off any poisons.

A pore is something more than an opening in the skin. It is an inlet, or means of absorption. The skin of man does not breathe one bit through his skin. The minute openings just mentioned, so commonly mistaken for "pores," do not absorb anything from the outside world; nor do they "open" and "close" with warmth and cold, as popular imagination has it. In fact, the little openings called "pores" are no more important physiologically or pathologically than is the hole in which a post stands or the hole in which a nail is set in the wood.

It seems deplorable to add that this leads straight to the inevitable conclusion that things purporting to feed or nourish the skin through the pores purport to accomplish the impossible. Thus, things purporting to improve complexion by giving something to the skin through the pores would have the same effect if applied to the side of a house.

It required several years of study for me to learn that when a young woman, complains of "enlarged pores," she means she has an excessive secretion of sebum or oil (doctors call this seborrhea) or more or less plugging of the little openings of the sebaceous ducts with hardened sebum ("white heads or comedones") or with sebum mixed with carbon and other dark pigments ("blackheads").

For these troubles the best application I know of is a mixture of equal parts of salicylic acid, sulphur, alcohol, camphor and water, which is rubbed and dabbed on the face and allowed to dry overnight. (Hay change may be used in place of alcohol in the formula, if alcohol is not available.)

Georgians to Equal Virginia's Showing.
Says Harry Hodgson

Athens, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—"Because we believe Georgians are as good as Virginians, we expect to put the University of Georgia in the lead in the coming year's campaign for the top in a hurry next month."

Score of the members of last year's senior class contributed $300 apiece to the campaign. If these boys, just starting out in the world, are willing to so pledge themselves for the help of the university, and the future greatness of the state, how infinitely more will Georgia's men of wealth give to match them?

Big Booze Haul Made by County, Four Arrested

206 Quarts, Thought Designed for Atlanta, Are Seized in Woods.

Two hundred and six quarts of gin and Scotch and rye liquors were piled in the headquarters of the county police at the Fulton courthouse Thursday night and two women and two men are under arrest as a result of the seizure Thursday morning by county police of a big touring car, which, they say, contained the liquor and was occupied by the quartet arrested.

The two women gave their names as Mrs. Agnes Sherman and Mrs. Lillian Row, of Miami, Fla., while the men were doctored under the names of Sam Sout and S. Fein, of Boston, Mass.

The arrests followed the notification of the county police that an automobile party had spent Wednesday night in the woods out from Atlanta, and that Thursday morning the occupants of the car were acting suspiciously. The arrests were made by Sergeant Carl Heard.

County officers on Thursday expressed the opinion that the liquor which they have at their headquarters was intended for an Atlanta bootlegger and that through some misunderstanding the party, which they say was en route here from Florida, was unable to deliver the supply Wednesday. Police said they believe the liquor was to have been transferred to another car while the party was still camping in the woods outside of the city.

In addition to this there were a number of hairbrushes and as many small bottles of eyebrow grower were taken.

The steamship's agents have lodged a protest with the British embassy at Washington against methods used by federal agents in conducting the raid, in which they charged that two of the crew were killed and five wounded. The agents claimed the crew was unarmed. The vessel is of British registry, although in the Greek trade.

Trailing Until Ninth Session Crackers Pull Rally and Win GIANTS GAIN Mrs. T. Williams and Mrs. Beck RUTH BREAKS MORE GROUND Meet Today for Women's Title HIS RECORD For Grant Field This Afternoon

Bedgood Pitches Nicely in Victory of Locals. The Clubs Will Play Here Today.

Chattanooga, Tenn., October 15.—(Special).—After Red Wingo laid down a booming triple to lead the ninth inning today, practically the entire Atlanta club went over the top as Eddie Morris and when the attack concluded the remains of the Lookouts were scattered over the outfield and the Crackers had transformed a 2-1 Lookout victory into a 6-2 win for the Crackers. The Lookouts had scored their two runs in the sixth as the result of a triple steal, one of the most brilliant plays of the season, and the ninth inning affair would have been a most glorious occasion with which to finish the campaign. Wingo's triple was not his first of the day, the red-topped outfielder having hit a single in the second, and leading the double previously, and leading the triple steal in the sixth inning. A determined assault starting with Number Thirteen and continuing through Number Fifteen, enabled Mrs. L. H. Beck to defeat Mrs. Thomas B. Paine in the remaining match of the women's city championship tournament at Druid Hills yesterday, her margin being 3 up and 2 to play. Mrs. Beck and Mrs. T. B. Williams met this morning in the championship battle, Mrs. Williams having won her way into the finals Wednesday by defeating Mrs. Dozier Lowndes, runner-up in the southern championship last year and medalist in the present tournament.

Locals Face Their Last Series Lookouts at Poncey Park Today

Just two more games now, and local baseball fans will begin to divide their attention between golf, football, boxing and other local athletic endeavors. The Crackers and their four opponents reached the city last night and will play two games before the end of the season on the Southern league's campaign. It isn't time for the post-mortems on the season, but it is time to look back on the season that has been over which the faithful could do much to improve.

Practice Yesterday Looked Like Track Team Training, Due to Ravages of Sun.

Well, even football squads have to bow to the supreme majesty of the sun at times. Yesterday's practice found the boys clad as scantily as possible. In fact they had on just enough to stay within the law and that was all. Some wore track pants, some wore track shirts, but very few wore the combination.

Rumored Ford Is Planning
Startling Price Reductions

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, September 15.—Traders in the stock market who have gone short every day this week "feeling for the top" had to admit today that so far their judgment had been wrong. These traders are firmly of the belief that big people in Wall street are using Livermore to make a market on which to unload. They believe that as soon as the outstanding short interest has been eliminated prices will again decline, because there will be no buying power to substitute for the short covering now going on.

Here is what one of the four Wall street houses that have changed the picture during the past fortnight by taking the long side of the market had to say today: "It is true that the rise is still being fought stubbornly by the bear interests. But the theory that stocks are being put up to distribute is a mistake. The theory on which the market is being purchased at this time is that it is a genuine bull market, that is to say the start of one. Stocks are being purchased for the long pull. This being the case, houses which look for wholesale selling on reactions by people who are accumulating stocks are likely to be mistaken. This is also the reason why those who are waiting for prices to get back where they were in August are likely to be mistaken, for the stock that is being taken out of the market by the interests responsible for this improvement is being taken out permanently."

This may be a true analysis of the existing speculative situation. However, old timers will not become converted to the bull side of the market until the upward movement becomes more general. So far, these old timers claim, it has been a "one man" market in a few stocks like wool, Studebaker, tobacco products, Endicott-Johnson, Baldwin. These stocks, it is pointed out, have already had substantial advances, and some morning the leader may not like his breakfast or he might hear a piece of bad news which will make him change to the bear side as quickly as he recently turned from that side.

Regarding the 30 point advance that has taken place in Baldwin it was learned from inside Philadelphia sources today that during the first six months of the year Baldwin earned more than its full year's dividend; that business has been getting better; that it has recently been running about $3,000,000 a month; that there is enough repair work to keep overhead down to a satisfactory basis; that within the last sixty days $4,500,000 of new business has been taken from Mexico and that negotiations are now on for a contract with Chile; that for some months cash has been gaining at the rate of from $600,000 to $800,000 by the difference in the billing price of goods and the inventory cost of manufacture.

Since last April no less than 144 price reductions have been announced on automobiles ranging per car from $20 to $1,700. These cuts reflect readjustments that have taken place in the cost of raw materials, finished materials and in labor and also a falling off in demand. Today's unconfirmed rumors from Detroit report that Ford is considering a widely advertised price cut, good for only a very short period, that will startle his competitors.

An increase of 892 cars in freight car loadings for the week of September 3 brings the total up to 830,601, the largest for any week since December 11, 1920.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE.

New York, September 15.—(Special).—The cotton market was much less active today with local brokers attributing the smaller volume of business to a lack of interest in the market.

There was a good deal of scattering of liquidation and some southern selling, but it was pretty well confined to the late afternoon and the close was within a few points of the lowest.

There were also rumors late in the morning that a prominent Chicago authority estimated the conditions of the crop at 40 which would indicate a falling off of 9.3 points since August 25.

Courtland St. Corner Lot
Some of these days Courtland street will be treated just like Spring street has been treated; the bumps will be shaved off and the low places filled in and smooth paving will be laid. This will make a real cross-town thoroughfare connecting with the Washington street viaduct and opening up the entire business district.
We have for sale a Courtland street corner situated where it is only a short block from Peachtree street. It has a large dwelling now bringing in enough rent to pay a fair income, but by alterations and additions these improvements could be made to yield a fine income. Later on the property will likely become adapted for some more substantial structure. The price is $160 per front foot, which compares favorably with any good investment property now offered on the market.

CUT THIS OUT
OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES
If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrh, Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.
Spray, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages toward the lungs which is equally as dangerous. A following formula which is most extensively in the English language is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.
Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmitin (Bottle strength). Take this dissolved in a little granulated sugar, six or eight times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Closed and hearing improve as the inflammation in the ear subsides. Parmitin is reduced to the blood and mucus surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired result. The preparation is easy to make, cost-free and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—(Ed.)

KRYPTOK BIFOCALS
WHAT ARE KRYPTOK BIFOCALS?
They are a combination of glass, allowing you to see both near and far with one solid glass. No removing your reading glass to see distant objects; no seams, lines or blisters to worry you or attract attention of others to your age. Absolutely invisible while on the face, they have proven a revelation to thousands who have come to us for them. Why are we successful with Kryptoks? Because we are extremely careful in the examination of your eyes, the correct grinding of the glass, and perfect adjustment of frames to each individual face, all of which is absolutely necessary to insure comfort and appearance. If you have Kryptoks bought elsewhere and cannot use them, bring them to us and we will find the trouble. Ask the better oculists or any of our patients what the Ballard service is to the public.
